ROMANIZATION OF SERBIAN CYRILLIC

BGN/PCGN 2005 AGREEMENT

The United States Board on Geographic Names and the United Kingdom Permanent Committee on Geographical Names follow the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) - 639-3 Standard in recognizing Serbian, Croatian, and Bosnian as three separate and distinct languages. The term "Serbian Cyrillic" is used to denote Serbian language materials written in Cyrillic script, in order to distinguish these from Serbian language materials written in Roman script. The tabulation below reflects the Serbian Cyrillic alphabet and the standard romanized equivalents used in both Serbia and Montenegro.
